British Periodical Literature.

REPUBLICATION OF
The London Quarterly Review,
The Edinburgh Review,
The North British Review,
The Westminster Review,
—AND—
Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

The wide spread fame of these splendid Periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they stand far in advance of any works of a similar stamp now published, while the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor, and forbearance, not often found in works of a party character.

They embrace the views of the three great parties in England—Tory, Whig, and Radical—"Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory, the "Edinburgh Review" Whig, and the "Westminster Review" Radical. The "North British Review" is more of a religious character, having been originally edited by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, being conducted by his son-in-law, Dr. Hanna, associated with Sir David Brewster. Its literary character is of the very highest order.—The "Westminster," though reprinted under that title only, is published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," it being in fact a union of the two Reviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage by this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both as heretofore issued.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals, Blackwood's Magazine being an exact fac-simile of the Edinburgh Edition.

TERMS.

For any one of the four Reviews,	$3 00 per annum
For any two do	5,00 "
For any three do	7,00 "
For all four of the Reviews,	8,00 "
For Blackwood's Magazine,	3,00 "
For Blackwood and three Reviews,	9 00 "
For Blackwood and the four Reviews,	10,00 "

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

CLUBBING.

Four copies of any or all the above works will be sent to one address on payment of the regular subscription for three—the fourth copy being gratis.

EARLY COPIES.

Our late arrangement with the British publishers of Blackwood's Magazine, secures to us early sheets of that work by which we are enabled to place the entire number in the hands of subscribers before any portion of it can be reprinted in any of the American Journals. For this and other advantages secured to our subscribers, we pay so large a consideration, that we may be compelled to raise the price of the Magazine.

☞ Something may therefore be gained by subscribing early.

THE subscriber, by appointment from the Commissioner of Patents, is Agent of the U. S. Patent Office for receiving and forwarding to the same models, specimens or manufactures to be patented, or deposited therein, which will be sent free of expense and risk, and with despatch. He will prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents, will make researches into American and Foreign works, to test the validity of inventions, and render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of verbally explaining their inventions, and of consulting in respect to them, matters, in general, of paramount importance in order to obtain correct specifications and claims. The experience of sixteen year's practice, an extensive collection of rare works, decisions, &c. on mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws, and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford to inventors desirous of procuring Patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

Comprising the true

Fever and Ague Pills,
PULMONARY ELIXIER,
AND
Strengthening Plaster.

TRIED and proved by their continued use, for the last fifty years, to be superior to any other preparations for the cure of every species of disease dependant upon

Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Stomach, Bowels and Liver, and all affections of the Lungs, Air Passages and Throat, as also Pain in the Bones, Joints, Side and Back, Rheumatism, Weak Stomach, Cramp, &c.

None genuine unless signed on the wrapper, "Stephen Jewett & Co." with a pen, to whom direct all orders.

Prepared by STEPHEN JEWETT, son of the late Dr. STEPHEN JEWETT, of Rindge, N. H.

Principal Office,—No. 80, India Street, Boston.

Please read the following certificate of a highly respectable and aged gentleman:

RINDGE, N. H., April 1, 1848.

To all whom it may concern:

I, the undersigned, do hereby certify; that I was acquainted with the late Dr. Stephen Jewett from my boyhood up to the time of his death, and having been his nearest neighbor, can testify to his medical skill and knowledge of Botany, with hundreds of others now living, and that in the year 1814 I was afflicted with jaundice palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, and general debility, so as to be unable to attend to any business and being a neighbor of the late Dr. Stephen Jewett, I had recourse to his far famed Bitters and Plaster, and by their use was permanently cured. Since the above named date, I have used Dr. Jewett's medicines with equally good effect, as prepared by Stephen Jewett, son of the late Dr. Stephen Jewett, of Rindge, N. H., and I cheerfully recommend them to the public as safe and invaluable medicines,—and being composed entirely of vegetables, I think them far better suited to the diseases of our climate than medicines composed of minerals or foreign nostrums. Try them, and judge from facts and experience. I consider Dr. Stephen Jewett's Strengthening Plaster far superior to any external application, for the purposes for which it is recommended, of any that I have ever known.

EBENEZER BLAKE.

DR. STEPHEN JEWETT'S
Health Restoring Bitters.

These Bitters, acting as they do upon the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, removing all the morbid secretions, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the digestive organs, not only cure diseases that already exist, but they also fortify the system against all attacks of disease. It is a common remark among those who have used Dr. Jewett's Bitters, that they have but little fear of being sick. The remark is strictly true, for while the stomach and bowels are kept in a good condition, and the blood pure, all the great predisposing causes are removed, and the whole system is fortified against those morbific influences, which under less favorable circumstances would have engendered perhaps fatal disease.

In order that the public may know that they are offered a truly excellent article, we append the following certificate, which may be seen, with numerous others, in Clair original, by calling on the proprietor.

BOSTON, May 15, 1848.

To all whom it may concern:—This may certify, that I have been for years troubled with a scrofulous humor, which has been very troublesome, and was fast undermining my health, and had severe pains in the back, loss of appetite, languor, and general debility.

A short time since I commenced taking Dr. Jewett's Health Restoring Bitters, and in a very short time my humors and pains left me, my appetite improved, and my health has not been so good for years, all of which I attribute to Dr. Jewett's Health Restoring Bitters.

(Mrs) E. H RUSSELL, Beach Street.

DR. STEPHEN JEWETT'S
Pulmonary Elixer.

Nearly one third of all the deaths that occur in New England are caused, either directly or indirectly by diseases of the Lungs and Chest. Why is this great sacrifice of human life? How happens it that the brightest intellects, of the highest promise, the hope and support of declining years, are smitten down in early life? Why is it that so many families have been made desolate by that fell destroyer, Consumption? And how happens it that so many interesting and lovely children are cut down every year by those dread diseases, the Quinsy and Croup? Is it because these diseases are incurable? Physicians will tell you these diseases can be cured,—if taken in season.

It is true these diseases can be cured with almost absolute certainty—if taken in season. Everybody should be aware of this fact, and provide themselves with Dr. Jewett's Pulmonary Elixer.

The following certificate, among numerous others which have been received, are appended for the benefit of those who desire to see certificates.

WINCHENDON, Mass., March 10, 1843.

Stephen Jewett—Dear Sir,—I feel it a duty to you and to the public, generally, to inform you all, who may have been afflicted as I have, that I have been entirely cured of a severe and long continued cough, by one bottle of your Pulmonary Elixer.—For months I have been a great sufferer. I had pain in my left side, sore throat, constant cough, and raised a good deal of bad looking matter. My strength was gone, and my flesh was wasting away. I took many things without benefit, and was steadily getting worse, till I procured your Pulmonary Elixer, which has cured me, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who are troubled with coughs.

Yours truly,

THOS. CUMMINGS.

DR. STEPHEN JEWETT'S
Strengthening Plaster.

These Plasters possess the property of removing Pain, curing Lameness, Cramp, Pain or Weakness in the Back, Joints, or Side, Rheumatism, Weak Stomach, &c., and when used in connection with the Bitters, in Liver Diseases, will prove very beneficial in removing the secular pain between the shoulders, and in the side and back, well known to those suffering with such diseases. The Plaster, from the quantity and quality given, is vastly cheaper than, and superior to, the "Poor Man's" or any other Plasters, and can be made any size wanted, without waste. One roll will make five good sized Plasters. A single trial will be all the testimonial necessary.

SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1849.

Connection of the Atlantic and Pacific.

Three centuries ago, the project of a canal through the neck of land which connects continents of North and South America, was announced and advocated by a Spanish Navigator The person to whom is due the credit of this plan is Alvaro Saavedra, a kinsman of Herman Cortes, who was entrusted with the command of the expedition fitted out by the latter, which sailed from New Spain, as Mexico was then called, on a voyage of discovery and adventure in the South Seas. No steps were taken at that early day towards the completion of the scheme The adventurous were then otherwise employed, and the plunder of the rich ships that plied on the coasts of South America, offered a speedier remuneration for labor than the expensive works and ill requited toil on the unwholesome sands of Darien A savant too, of those times, Acosta, a Spaniard, in his history of the Indies, had predicted some awful calamity to the world, if the connection of the two seas should thus be attempted, from the fact he assumed that one ocean was higher than the other This bugbear of Acosta's has survived his reputation and his name, and is echoed in the school geographies that furnished the topographical lore of the grown generation of to-day Observations finished in 1829, under the patronage of Bolivar, seem to show some ground for the assumption of the disparity in the level of two oceans, but it has long been settled that with the facilities of modern mechanics, there was no real obstacles in the way of their connection

The practicability of the plan is said to be demonstrated to conviction in the Royal Society Transactions for 1830 With so much for the history of this project let us hasten to the proposition which has called our attention to this subject

A London correspondent of the New York Herald, (writing from London, Feb 7th, 1849) says that a project is now on foot in that city to construct a ship passage between the two oceans by way of Lake Nicaragua Influential men and capitalists are said to be engaged in the work; a recent survey has been made by a competent engineer, and the expense of the work fixed at £1,200,000

Before mentioning further details in regard to this plan and route, let us survey the various routes that have been proposed as the means of water communication between the two oceans

There have been five, including two by way of the Gulf of Darien, both of which have been given up as impracticable Of the remaining three, the first is that by the

ISTHMUS OF PANAMA

The facts in relation to which we take as we find them in an article in the London Times of the 13th of February —

"This isthmus at its narrowest point is less than 20 miles across, but at this part there is a mountain ridge 1,000 feet, and it is in the district only between Chagres on the Atlantic and Panama on the Pacific, where the width in a direct line is 33 miles, that a passage could be effected The first grant for the purpose, by the Canadian Government was to Charles Biddle, of the United States, but this having lapsed, a new concession was made in 1838, to Solomon & Co, of Panama, a French house, who caused a survey to be made by an engineer named Morel, and by whom estimates and proposals were subsequently issued for raising the required capital

The terms of the concession which it is not necessary to recapitulate, were far too favorable to the Granadian government

"The route proposed by Salomon & Co, was one by which the rivers Chagres and Trinidad on the Atlantic side, should be united by a canal of twenty five miles with the river Farpan, which flows into the Rio Grande to the Pacific, the total length of the passage, including the windings of the rivers, being 50 miles, and the highest point of land being 33 feet Building materials, consisting of limestone, clay, lime, and wood, were accessible in abundance The canal was to be 150 feet in width, and 22 feet deep, and calculated to admit vessels of from 1,200 to 1,400 tons It was to be completed in eight years, and the estimated cost was $3,475 000, or £695 000 The estimate of tonnage likely to pass through yearly was 499,800 tons, and the proposed toll being $2 per ton, the income would be $999 618, from which deducting expenses of $235,000, a divisible balance would remain of $764,618, or $52 923 The details furnished of this scheme were by no means clear or ample, (although the estimate of possible revenue seems not have been excessive,) and other surveyors have represented the difficulties of the work to be far greater With regard to the harbors on each side, the accounts are favorable, but the surrounding country has no recommendations, and the climate is unquestionably dangerous.'

The project of Messrs Howland & Aspinwall to construct a railroad across a portion of the Isthmus of Panama, is well known to our readers from the recent discussion of the subject in Congress and by the Press Their grant runs from the State of Panama, which we understand to be entirely distinct from the South American government of Granada, which, ten years ago, exercised jurisdiction over the territory

The next route in point of notoriety is that by the

ISTHMUS OF TEHUANTEPEC

For the following statement in relation to which we are indebted to the Times of the same date

"The direct width of this isthmus is nearly 150 miles, and a privilege having been granted in 1842 to Don Jose de Garay, to construct a ship canal, he caused it to be surveyed by Senor Moro, an Italian engineer He proposed to avail himself of the river Coatzacoalcos, the mouth of which had long been pointed out as the fittest place in the Gulf of Mexico for a depot, owing to its abundance of durable ship timber and the convenience and security of the port The river through its windings is navigable in some degree for 160 miles, and after this progress to a table land at a place called Tarifa, 535 feet, and falling from Tarifa to the Pacific 650 feet The summit level was to be supplied with water by a trench from two rivers, which descended from the mountains to the Pacific The canal was to be twenty feet deep and 122 feet wide, and would have required 160 locks Adopting the scale of estimate of the Caledonian Canal, the cost would have been £8 400,000.

One great advantage of this route would be the excellence of the country through which it passes. The salubrity of the climate is said to be unequalled on the American continent, and the population are among the most active and healthy of the Indian races In addition to a fertile soil and forests of the finest timber it is reported that the mountains contain rich gold and silver mines.'

THE LAKE NICARAGUA ROUTE.

There remains the route by Nicaragua, which has already come into use in the recent throng of travel in that portion of the work One of the vessels from New York, having on board several passengers from this city, the brig St. Mary's, cleared for the port of San Juan, which is the Atlantic terminus of the proposed canal Nicaragua, the capital of the province of the same name is situated in latitude 120 North, on the lake of the same name It is distant from Chagres about three hundred miles in a north east direction This Lake Nicaragua which is three fourths of the way between the two oceans, going from the Atlantic, is situated upon the Isthmus at a point where the same is about 150 miles wide, having for its outlet the river San Juan, at the mouth of which is the town of the same name just referred to, the harbor of which is spoken of as one of the best on the coast Starting then at this point on the Atlantic, the proposed Canal follows up this river, 90 miles long, which, from the description, is somewhat less, but much of the same character as the Penobscot above Oldtown

There is one exception, however, and upon this the hopes of the feasibility of making its bed, a ship canal must rest At present it is navigable all the year by boats of eight to ten tons burden, and no more, and this results from the fact that at one point its waters flow over the country into a river called Colorado, creating in the intermediate country a labyrinth of small islands and shallows between This it is said, can be remedied by a dam, the fall or rapids on the river can be locked, making 73 miles of works on this river Then the Lake is reached, 90 miles long, 20 wide, of abundant depth, and perfectly navigable

Then comes the little river Tipitapa, 20 miles long, connecting this with Lake Leon, and having one cascade of 13 feet Lake Leon is 35 miles in length and 29 from the Pacific, but is only eleven miles distant from the river Tosta, which averages 65 feet wide, and six feet deep at low water, and cutting a communication to this, we reach by at the town of Realejo, or Realejo, on the Pacific, one of the ports at which the steamers, Howland and Aspinwall's line already touch The total length of this route would be 278 miles, of which 82 would require works The highest point upon it above the level of the lake is stated at 51 feet The climate is perfectly healthy, so much so that a party of 40 men under the English Engineer, Mr Baily, worked there forty days without a single individual being laid up by sickness, although all slept in the open air Provisions of all kind abound at the lowest prices beef at less than $2 the cwt, Indian corn at 75 cents per bushel, and rice as cheap, and labor, including provisions, at $9 per month

In fact every thing seems in favor of this route The great natural advantages we have detailed have received the concurrent testimony of all the engineers who have examined it, and the great traveller and geographer, Humboldt, pronounced decidedly in its favor

"If ever, says he, 'the two oceans are connected, it must be by the Lake of Nicaragua, situated at the elevation above the two oceans which will give an ample supply of water to the canals

The details given above are mostly gathered from a pamphlet published by the present President of the French Republic, Louis Napoleon While a prisoner at Ham in 1842 the project was suggested to him by a person who had resided in Jamaica, and he employed a French officer about to start for Central America, to make the necessary observations The pamphlet was printed in London in 1847 for private circulation The recent good fortune of the Prince has of course rendered it impossible for him to engage personally in the work He had resolved to put himself permanently at its head and in 1845 was invested with full powers by the government of Nicaragua, which exhibited great zeal in the undertaking

We have set forth with no unwilling pains, lay the grounds of the feasibility and the prospect of the construction of this canal And we have done so in order that we might produce the conviction that a canal across the Isthmus is no longer a mere project, to be dreamed of and talked about, but not to be hoped for, feared, or accomplished It has now assumed a form and gained an impetus sufficient to carry it into execution It is now informed with the energy of British enterprise and the solidity of British capital

The United States have certainly abundant sources of enterprise The recent access one of the Pacific coast, however had encouraged the most magnificent hopes of future commercial prosperity Already were seen the line of Steamers, (as contemplated in the able report of Hon T B King, at the first session of the Thirtieth Congress) speeding from San Francisco to the Sandwich Islands and to Canton And already were the rich goods of China—her exports were 36 millions of dollars in 1847, obstructing the wharves of the Pacific city Then the long line of cars were seen in fancy's eye, went groaning with them on their way to the Atlantic, steaming over prairie and winding around mountains

The results looked for from all this were the transfer from London to our cities of the immense India trade with its vast wealth and profit The means for the construction of such a road, expensive as it might be, were readily found in the mineral wealth and public lands of the newly acquired territory We leave it for cashons to judge how these prospects must be affected by a ship-canal across the Isthmus and we need not trace out how every vessel that came through it would do so to our injury and the advantage of Europe We quote again from the same article of the Times—

"A few days back we gave an outline of the conditions on which the American railway across the Isthmus of Panama is to be constructed mentioning that in connection with that scheme it was seen that the ports of the United States might become the depots of the commerce between Europe and the East, while in the case of a ship canal, the only alteration that would occur, would be the shortening of distances for all parties Still although this view is taken with regard to the railway, by the people of the United States, they are sufficiently alive to the broader considerations connected with a direct junction of the two oceans, and hence simultaneously with the construction of the railroad, there is a strong opinion that no time should be lost in perfecting the larger scheme

Important however as the measure may be to the United States, it is impossible to look at the map and not perceive that it is far more momentous to England A railroad from the Mississippi, for all the produce of the States to the Eastern seas, but England has no such resource. She must either have a canal through the Isthmus, or make the old passage via Cape, I can, or the Cape of Good Hope, or at least a shorter for her ships for a return cargo

One interest [illegible] affiliate the whaling business, not from that interest we should not be surprised to see a loud advocacy of the project.

The already too great length of this article forbids us to dwell longer upon this topic. We believe there can be no hesitating in any mind as to the far exceeding advantage to our country of a railroad across the Continent. We have ample means for its construction, and it behooves us to see that no counter project effects the delay or abandonment of a measure fraught with such incalculable advantages to our country, now and hereafter

St Patrick's Day.

The 17th of March is the day set in the Roman calender as the anniversary of St Patrick, but whether of his birth or of his death we do not know St Patrick lived in the 4th century He was a slave at sixteen years of age and so remained some six years and then he ministered in Ireland as a preacher of christianity where he was the second Apostle, or Bishop, as successor to Palladius He was a very pious man, and for sixty years labored for the spiritual welfare of the people of Ireland and is now their Patron Saint

The anniversary of this Saint is widely and joyfully celebrated, and none do it with higher zest than the Catholic Irishmen of Bangor For several years past the different societies here have had separate celebrations of this day on which, of all others in the year they should unite and mingle their sympathies and their joys It should be a season of kindly and pleasant feeling among them, and all causes of separation and estrangement should be laid aside — On this day, we are glad to learn that these different societies will unite in the celebration of an anniversary so intimately linked with all their thoughts of "— their own native isle of the ocean"

More dear in her sorrows, her gloom and her showers
Than the rest of the world in its sunniest hours"

They will form a grand procession accompanied by the Bellast Band, and march through the principal streets of the city to St Michael's church where religious services will be held — They will then repair to Market Hall, where a dinner will be provided and to which a number of guests have been invited

It is expected, we learn, that Hon Horace Greeley the friend of Ireland and of human kind and human welfare, will be present at the dinner Should he be in the city, no American would be received with greater enthusiasm by our Irish citizens

☞ The Jeffersonian in commenting upon our remarks relative to the pleasant social civilities exchanged between the late and the present administration at Washington, contrives, by a slander upon the Whig press to throw all the responsibility of the want of such civilities in times past, upon the Whigs It forgets that when Gen Jackson came on to Washington as President elect he refused all the hospitalities so cordially tendered him by Mr Adams — He set up the iron rule of party and made it override the social amenities of life between men of different political sentiments It is the decendant party in the government which must give tone and character to the courtesies of life in political circles, and the fact that the kindly courtesies have been neglected and a spirit of bitterness indulged, and a clannish feeling maintained, at Washington and generally through the country for many years, sufficiently shows who should be held responsible.

But the Jeffersonian warrantably assumes that the era of good feeling supposed to be cherished by the Whigs, and freely offered to the minority, is but a supplication to the minority to treat the ascendant party kindly! Our neighbor should, however strange it may seem to him endeavor to realize that his party is in the minority, and in that position have few favors to bestow

☞ The Mississippi river has broken over its banks and the water has made a complete breach over many miles of cotton and Sugar plantations, causing an immense amount of damage to property The full extent of which is not ascertained Great fears are entertained as to the safety of plantations at other points, even New Orleans is threatened with inundation.

☞ George B Smith & Co have laid upon our table several recent numbers of the Daguerreotype and Foreign Miscellany They are very attractive, and in spite of pressing claims for time, they tempt us a way from work. Our friends can procure numbers of the Agents

There appears to be an increase of the California Gold Fever The Western people are making great preparations for their overland excursions, and even in this vicinity there are many who manifest a determination to be off with the swelling buds of spring

☞ It is estimated that at least a thousand dollars worth of Salmon Trout are taken from Moose Head Lake every winter

☞ Mount Hope Green House makes a fine appearance at the present time and will well repay one for a visit

☞ Miss Perry's private school was examined yesterday and won golden opinions for the promptness of the recitations and the general good appearance of the pupils

☞ Horace Greeley will lecture before the Lyceum on Monday evening next

☞ The following lines of sweet poetry were written as a school exercise in composition, in the High School for Girls, in this city

We are reminded by this gem, of what Sir Elyot in the olden time, said of poetry, which was as follows, and in copying it we have neither Webstorized Worcesterized his orthography but preserved his own —

'Poetry was the first philosophy that ever was knowen whereby men from their childhode were brought to the reason howe to lowe wel, lernynge therby not onely maners and natural affections, but also the wonderful workes of nature, mynting serious mater with thynges that were pleasounter'

I Would if I Could.

I would if I could,
Though much it's in use,
Is but a fallacious
And sluggish excuse;
And many a person,
Who could if he would,
Is often heard saying,
'I would if I could'

Come, John" said a schoolboy,
I wish you would try
To solve this hard problem,
Now don't you deny
But John at that moment,
Was not in the mood,
And yawningly answered
'I would if I could'

At the door of a mansion,
In tattered rags clad,
Stood a poor woman, begging
A morsel of bread,
The rich man scarce heeded,
While trembling she stood,
And answered her coldly
'I would if I could.'

The scholar receiving
His teacher's advice;
The swearer admonished
To shun such a vice,
The child when requested
To try and be good,
Oft give the same answer,
'I would if I could'

But if we may credit
What good people say
That where a strong Will is
There's always a way,
And whatever ought to be,
Can be and should
We never need utter
'I would if I could.'

Things in Washington.

'Independent, the correspondent of the Philadelphia North American, writes (March 11th as follows

It has been decided, after full consultation between the President and the Cabinet, not to submit any nominations for office, except where vacancies exist or may occur before the period of adjournment This rule will be rigidly observed unless sufficient reason should appear to induce a change of policy, at the Council which will be held to-morrow

The foreign missions of all grades are to be governed by the same principle and no appointments will be made for months to come A part from the obvious propriety of this rule connected with the State of the Treasury require it to be rigidly observed The installment on the Mexican indemnity will soon be due, and other large demands upon the Treasury are accruing with which the declining revenue from customs and lands require the utmost vigilence and care to protect the government against embarrassment Mr Meredith has therefore very properly determined, as a precautionary measure, to husband every resource and not to apply appropriations, that may be consistently deferred with advantage to the public interests

Mr Walker's recommendation for the issue of five millions of Treasury notes was lost in the Committee of Conference on the last night of the session, which necessarily reduces the expected means of Government to that extent, in the event of a serious depreciation in the revenue but, with this loss, there was an incidental gain to the amount of a million and a quarter for the Cherokee claims, which the commissioners abandoned Consequently the actual condition of the Treasury is better by this sum than was expected when the estimates of deficiency were published, including the Cherokee claims

The appropriations for salaries and outfits are stricken to the bill for the ensuing fiscal year, commencing on the first of July next, and as they, with other appropriations depending upon the same principle, make up a large aggregate, which is now important to the Treasury, it has been considered most prudent to postpone any benefit upon the limited resources which are now at the command of the Secretary

Besides this proper consideration for the condition of the Treasury, it must be manifest to every reflecting mind that these important foreign appointments cannot be filled with a due regard to the claims of individuals in the midst of the pressure and confusion which now exists. The same remarks justly apply to the local patronage

Mr Pearce, to whom the post of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury was tendered by Mr Meredith, has accepted and arrived He will enter upon his new duties to-morrow to the gratification of all, who know the value of his services to the Government and the ability with which he formerly conducted an equally important office

How to finish a dinner at Court.

The Court Journal instructs the crowd now at Washington, how to finish a dinner, as follows:

A glass bowl half filled with tepid water, and scented with orange flower water, is offered to every guest, into which he should insert the extremities of his fingers (taking care not to wet his cuffs) then a dry linen napkin is handed, with less water, it is [illegible] soil, this is used to [illegible] universal custom [illegible] small quantity of [illegible] mouth, [illegible] forward [illegible] with the swell'

THE MOST EXTRAORDINARY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD

This Extract put up in Quart Bottles—it is six times cheaper (pickaxwise) and infinitely superior to any sold

New York April 28 1847

Dr TOWNSEND—Inclosed I have sent your Sarsaparilla to the office through Brandreth Pills, my life I have for several years had a cough that I thought would carry me At last I tried a single quart of your Sarsaparilla and was greatly benefited and reduce I do not expect to live, but there has a wonderful change been wrought in me I can now walk about the city Your Extract has stopped the spitting of blood, and my cough has left me I feel so thankful for these results

Yours respectfully

WM RUSSELL, 65 Catherine st

RHEUMATISM

This is only one of most of the thousand cases of Rheumatism that Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla has cured in the last few years and of some cases it was really cured in only three days

James Cummings, Esq one of the assistants in the Lunatic Asylum, Blackwell's Island, is a gentleman known of to the rotunda of Bitter

Blackwell's Island Sept 14, 1847

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir This will certainly for some time tell the Brandreth Pills are subtile of the disease I could not do without them I had the most distressing pains and my limbs were limpy as silk I have used four bottles of your Sarsaparilla and they have taken away more than one thousand dollars worth of good I am so much better I am entirely relieved You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted Yours respectfully,

JAMES CUMMINGS.

FITS FITS FITS!

Dr Townsend not has Fits, tested his Sarsaparilla in cases of Fits, of course never one remembers it, and never tried to receive the following from an intelligent and respectable Farmer in Westchester County

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir I have a little girl, seven years of age, who has been several years afflicted with Fits We tried almost every thing for her, but without no case, at last, of hope we sold and use recompence dition in your circulars for cases like hers we thought, as she was in very delicate health, we would give her one of your Sarsaparilla, and are very glad we did, for it not only restored her strength but she has had no return of the Fits, to our great pleasure and surprise She is fast becoming rugged and hearty, for which we feel grateful Yours, respectfully,

JOHN BUTLER, Jr

FEMALE MEDICINE

Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and specific cure for Female Complaints Consumption Barrenness, Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb Leucorrhœa Fits Irritation Inflammation of Uterus or Neck Menstruation Inconvenience of Urine or involuntary discharge thereof and for the general constitution of the system—no matter whether the result of inherent causes or causes produced by irregularity, illness, or accident Nothing Female complaints, or any thing arising effects on the human frame Persons of weakness and lassitude, from taking it, at once be sensible of its effect in giving tone and influence It immediately counteracts the ill effects of the Female Pills which are the great cause of Barrenness—It will not be a mere temporary effect, in consequence of delicate nature to exhaust or destroy Nature's powers but will work a cure in the afflicted this hundreds of cases have been reported to us Thousands Females where Pills and Doses have been tried in vain, all ceasing from the use of this medicine to medicine, have been cured with the benefit of health

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES

The extract of Sarsaparilla can be expressly prepared in reference to female complaints No female who has reason to suppose she is approaching that critical period The turn of life, should neglect to take it, as it is a certain cure to prevent any of the numerous and horrible consequences which female are subject at this time of life Hers should not be delayed for several years by using this medicine. Nor is it less so valid for those well approaching a menstruation as it is calculated to assist nature to push on the blood and invigorate the system Indeed this is the most valuable for all the delicate diseases to which women are subject

It braces the whole system renews permanently the natural energy of the system removing the impurities of the body, but as for stimulating it to produce a temporary relaxation—which is the case of most medicines taken for a time, but leaves weakness and disease By using a few bottles of this medicine, the most severe and painful surgical operations may be prevented

GREAT BLESSING TO MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

It is the safest and most efficacious medicine for purifying the system and relieving the sufferings attendant upon child birth ever offered It strengthens both the mother and child giving them health and vigor, diseases and sufferings the Fever—those who have used it think it is indispensable It is highly useful both before and after confinement as it prevents diseases attendant upon childbirth—in Costiveness, Cramps, Swelling of the Feet and Legs, Heartburn, Vomiting, Pain in the Back and Loins, Fever, Pains, Hemorrhage, and in regulating the secretions and equalizing the circulation it has no equal The great beauty of this medicine is it is a sure cure, and the most delicate use it most successfully, very few cases require more than one medicine—in some a little Castor Oil or Magnesia is useful Exercise in the open air and light food with this medicine, will always supply a safe and easy confinement

BEAUTY AND HEALTH

Cosmetics, Cholls, and a variety of preparations generally in use, when applied to the face, vary soon spoil it of its beauty They Fair the pores of the skin, and check the circulation, which, when nature is left, is invariably by disease or powder, or the skin is ruined by the silks and is used in some instances to cause production in the "human face divine," as well as in the garden of richest delicately tinted and variegated flowers A few octave and then the circulation of the blood and the coursing of the pure, rich blood to the extremities is that which paints the countenance in the most exquisite beauty It is that which imparts the indescribable shades and flushes of loveliness that all admire, but none can describe This beauty is the offspring of nature—not of powder puffs It then is not a fair and healthy circulation, there is no beauty If the lady is fair as drifted snow, if she paint and use cosmetics, and the blood is tinged with cold, and impure she is not beautiful If she be brown as yellow, and there is pure and active blood, it gives a rich bloom to the cheeks, and a brilliancy to their eyes, that is fascinating
